PRESS RELEASE

SecureTech Extends Certain Warrant Expiration Dates

Roseville, Minnesota – June 16, 2021 – SecureTech Innovations, Inc. (OTC: SCTH), an emerging growth company focused on developing and marketing personal and automobile security and safety devices and technologies, announces that its Board of Directors has extended the expiration dates on certain Stock Purchase Warrants (“Warrants”).

This change affects two series of Warrants. The first set of Warrants include 439,300 Warrants carrying an exercise price of $0.20/share with an expiration date of June 30, 2021, now expiring on December 31, 2021. The second set of Warrants include 439,300 Warrants carrying an exercise price of $0.30/share with an expiration date of December 31, 2021, now expiring on March 31, 2022.

The purpose of extending the expiration dates is because SecureTech presently has a pending Registration Statement on Form S-1 with the SEC. A portion of this pending Registration Statement registers the shares of common stock underlying these Warrants. Essentially, the Warrants might expire before the SEC declares the Registration Statement “effective.” Until this occurs, the Warrants cannot get properly exercised.

Kao Lee, SecureTech’s President and CEO, stated, “We are very appreciative of our wonderful family of shareholders. It is our responsibility and obligation to look out for our shareholders where we can. This is just one such instance. Everyone who has purchased these Warrants should have the ability and legal right to exercise them into unrestricted shares of common stock as we originally intended. This extension will allow the SEC sufficient time to complete their review process so these Warrants can properly be exercised into shares of common stock, should each Warrant wish to do so.”

Mr. Lee continued, “Additionally, we will be filing an amendment to the pending Registration Statement in July to include our newest shareholders who have privately purchased shares through our ongoing Series C Private Placement. We are selling shares of our common stock at a fixed price of $0.25/share through this offering.”
